

THE FEDERALIST

Newsletter of the Society for History in the Federal Government, Washington, DC

Highlighting federal history work:

- important issues affecting federal history programs
- history office initiatives, innovations, and publications
- activities of the Society and its membership

Published quarterly and sent to members

Membership application and contents at

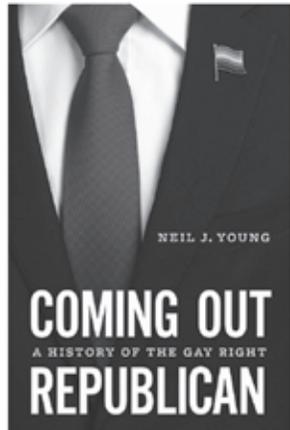

<http://shfg.wildapricot.org/Federalist-Newsletter>

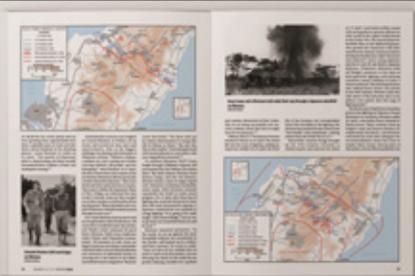

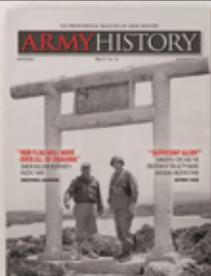

NEW FROM CHICAGO

The Northeast Corridor
The Trains, the People, the History, the Region
David Alff
Cloth $30.00

Coming Out Republican
A History of the Gay Right
Neil J. Young
Cloth $30.00

DISCOVER ARMY HISTORY

www.history.army.mil

NAVAL HISTORY AND HERITAGE COMMAND

★ Now Available! ★

The Naval War of 1812: A Documentary History, Volume IV. Capturing the sweep of the U.S. Navy's 1812 history is the goal of this landmark series, researched and written over more than four decades. This final volume surveys the war at sea in the Atlantic and Gulf Coast theaters in 1814 and 1815.

History of the Office of the Chief of Naval Operations, 1915-2015. This centennial history is organized around those individuals who have had the greatest impact on the agency and provides many trenchant insights into how the U.S. Navy's organization, planning, policies, and strategy have evolved over the past century.

Download free digital editions at: www.navy.history.mil/publications/publications-by-subject.html

WWW.NAVY.HISTORY.MIL

NEW from MCUP | 15 YEARS

Marine Corps University Press is an open access publisher dedicated to publishing scholarly content in the form of journals and books that offer a far-reaching discussion on military studies, national security, international relations, and political science topics.

Visit our website to order books and subscribe to our journals:

Journals

Journal of Advanced Military Studies

The Journal of Advanced Military Studies (JAMS) is an open access journal that offers a forum for open dialogue between scholars, policy makers, analysts, and military leaders and of crossing civilian-military boundaries to advance knowledge and solve problems.

Strategic Resources: Spring 2025 Special Issue on the Arctic: Summer 2025
AI/Disruptive Technologies: Fall 2025 Will to Fight: Spring 2026

Marine Corps History

Marine Corps History (MCH) published scholarly content that focuses on the broad spectrum of the Corps' history from its earliest days through the Cold War and beyond.

Winter 2024/25 due 1 June 2024 Summer 2025 due 1 December 2024

Expeditions

Expeditions is a born-digital journal that offers authors a forum for the debate of trending domestic and international topics. It offers all the advantages of a scholarly journal in a shorter time frame than a traditional print journal. Authors will discuss the full spectrum of themes within the context of national security, international relations, and geopolitics as they apply to and impact the Department of Defense, the Department of the Navy, and the U.S. Marine Corps directly and indirectly.

Submission guidelines

Articles must be at least 4,000 words, including footnotes, and formatted according to Chicago Manual of Style. Submissions may be sent to mcu_press@usmcu.edu.

Online Resources from SHFG

History at the Federal Government

An online educational portal to over 260 agency history pages and 65 history resource pages.

Online: <http://www.shfg.org/history-at-fedgov>

Timeline of U.S. Federal History

An annotated timeline that highlights select milestones important in the evolution of the U.S. federal government.

Online: <https://networks.h-net.org/node/5301/pages/1030420/timeline-federal-history>

