50 YEARS OF SOLAR SYSTEM EXPLORATION
HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVES

In the NASA History Division’s newest publication, scholars address the science, technology, policy, and politics of planetary exploration since Mariner 2’s mission to Venus in 1962. The essays in this volume delve into the most important projects, decisions, and milestones of the past half-century.

NAVAL HISTORY AND HERITAGE COMMAND

Now Available!

This review of U.S. Navy aircraft carrier requirements during four presidential administrations provides a manageable way to look at recent Navy policy. The concise study provides trenchant insights into how shifts in national policy affected the Navy. In effect, the number of aircraft carriers during a given period has been the primary determinant of the service’s overall size and underpins U.S. naval strategy in a shifting spectrum of missions and in potential and real conflicts.

New from the Joint History and Research Office

The Chairmanship of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, 1949–2019

Lavishly illustrated with color and black and white photographs, this revised edition of The Chairmanship of the Joint Chiefs of Staff commemorates the seventieth anniversary of the position’s creation.

Repealing Don’t Ask, Don’t Tell: A Historical Perspective from the Joint Chiefs of Staff

Based largely on interviews conducted with former members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, this account centers on the period between 1981 and 2011, when Congress and the Defense Department reinforced, then revised, and finally repealed the controversial policy.

History of Joint Staff Strategic Planning, 1949–2020

This study examines the role of the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Joint Staff in strategic planning. It not only connects presidential-level strategy documents to those produced by the Joint Staff, but also documents how the twenty-first century concept of global integration came into being.

A Right to Lie?
Presidents, Other Liars, and the First Amendment
Catherine J. Ross

In A Right to Lie?, Catherine J. Ross addresses the urgent issue of whether the nation's highest officers, including the president, have a right to lie under the Speech Clause, no matter what damage their falsehoods cause. Does freedom of expression protect even factual falsehoods? If so, are lies by candidates and public officials protected? And is there a constitutional path, without violating the First Amendment, to stop a president whose persistent lies endanger our lives and our democracy?
